

PROJECT D.E.L.T.A. | INTEL REPORT

TIMESTAMP: 2026-04-27 19:51:09.141566

[TARGET DATA]

LATITUDE: -8.7833

LONGITUDE: 34.5667

CONFIDENCE: 70%

[ANALYSIS]

The described savanna biome, high levels of rare earth elements, and unnatural avoidance zone suggest a unique geological environment. The location's remote nature and lack of major industrial activity point towards a less explored region. The given coordinates match the area near the Mahale Mountains in Tanzania, known for its unique ecosystems and geological formations, which could explain the wildlife migration patterns and 'the place where metal sings' oral traditions.