

PROJECT D.E.L.T.A. | INTEL REPORT

TIMESTAMP: 2026-01-08 13:07:40.317083

[TARGET DATA]

LATITUDE: 0.5333

LONGITUDE: 35.4667

CONFIDENCE: 80%

[ANALYSIS]

The East African Rift system's high-altitude regions and desert-adjacent climates align with the 'impossible' atmospheric stability and localized electromagnetic interference description, pointing towards locations like the Aberdare Range, a known area of unusual ecological diversity and potential for vibrational dampening fields.